TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

WILSON'S VICTORY COMPLETE

Harvey Helm Only Democrat From Kentucky To Oppose President

A dispatch from Washington Tuesday night said: The House of Representatives tonight, after one of the most spectacular legislative struggles in national history, voted to repeal the provision of the Panama Canal act exempting American vessels from the payment of tolls. The vote on the bill 247 to 161, a majority of 86 votes in support of the personal plea of President Woodrow Wilson.

This verdict on the issue which has absorbed Congress for many weeks, came at the close of a stirring day, made memorable in House annals by a party division which found Speaker Champ Clark, Majority Leader Underwood, and other Democratic chiefs lined up in open opposition to the President on an issue which the latter had declared vital to his conduct of the nation's foreign policy.

The result is but the beginning of the victory for the Administration in the first struggle within the party since the democracy took control of the Government a year ago. Tomorrow the bill goes to the Senate, where the fight will be renewed with all the vigor and determination that attended it in the lower house, but where it is certain the president and his friends will win again.

The vote of the Kentucky delegation was as follows:

Ayes—Shelley, Barkley, Fields, Stanley, Thomas, Johnson, Rouse and Cantrill.

Nays—Helm, Powers and Langley.

Congressman Helm was the only Democratic member from Kentucky to oppose the president.

Fat Cattle Moving In Bourbon

The first fat cattle sale of the season in Bourbon county was consummated last week, when Thomas Clay, Jr., of Bourbon, sold to Jonas Weil, of Lexington, 150 head of fat bullocks, at a fancy price. The cattle are in the pink of condition, and will average 1,300 pounds each. The delivery of the cattle will be made about April 10. They will be shipped to Jersey City, W. A. Tomason, of near Middletown, sold the past week to Maury Weil, of Lexington, 80 head of fancy beef cattle weighing about 1,300 pounds each. The price was said to be in the neighborhood of $9 per hundred pounds. It is said that there are upwards of 1,000 head of fat cattle in Bourbon county, which will be sold and shipped between now and the first of July. Cattle have wintered well in Bourbon, due in part to the fact that the farmers have fed a balanced ration of corn, cottonseed meal, hay and ensilage. Stock feeders in Bourbon are constructing their tobacco barns with a view to utilizing them during the winter for feeding their cattle in, and this has also been a factor in putting the fat stock in good condition.

Cassamora & McClintock, of Paris, made the following sales of work mules, Monday: To C. F. Redmon, of Paris, two mules for $885; to John Cain, of Paris, pair of mules for $425; to J. W. Wright, of Bourbon, one mule at $150; to Wm. Harris, of Bourbon, pair of mules for $425.

A. P. Adair & Son, of near Paris, report the following sales of Durocs: One gilt to Mr. Strader, of Lexington, for $20; a bred gilt by High Chief, Ed. and out of a daughter of Cherry King, for $30; bred gilt, same breeding, to Julian Frank, Paris, $30; and two bred gilts to J. L. Horton, of Paris, for $50.

Harris & Speakes, of Paris, sold the Dr. Hoffman farm located on the Rudolph Mills road, about two and a half miles from Paris, containing 100 acres, to W. T. Caywood, of Lexington, at $125 per acre; $7,000 cash, and the balance on term notes.

John Sauer, who owns the Maplehurst farm, near Paris, reports that thirty-four ewes on his place gave birth to seventy-four lambs on April 1, of which seventy-one are living. Included in the lot were two sets of triplets.

Caywood & McClintock recently sold two head of general purpose horses, to a Mr. Whitesides, of Atlanta, Ga., for $385.

DAVIS' STORE

Dalt Manuel, who has been in Illinois a short time visiting relatives and look for work has returned home telling the same old story that others tell, that there is no place like old Kentucky.

We were sorry to hear that the money drawer of John Engleman, R. R. carrier on Route No. 1 had been robbed, as he was saving up his money to buy him a set of harness or an automobile. He had not fully made up his mind which to buy.

Mrs. Lucinda James was surprised by her many relatives on March 31st, all joining in and eating her a birthday dinner. There were 54 of her relatives there for dinner with her that day, it being her 78th birthday. The youngest of the guests was master Clark Henry James, her great grand son being just five weeks old. All reported a merry time and her relatives were singing some of the old time songs, which the old lady joined in and helped to sing.

Jesse James and wife are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry James. John Hayes and wife of Somerset, are visiting relatives and friends in this section.

Miss Allie Crutchfield, of Nicholasville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Nannie F. Adams.

John Harris has been confined to his bed with grip.

J. A. Tucker and Mr. J. C. Tucker have both been very sick but are improved at this writing.

Church Dedication Postponed

The dedication of the Christian church at Danville has been postponed to Sunday, April 12th. Quite a number from Lincoln plan to attend on this happy occasion.

MOUNT MAY BE A DARK HORSE

Garrard Representative a Factor in Fight For Postmastership

The contest over the Lancaster postmastership bids fair to be further complicated this week, for Representative J. R. Mount, of Garrard county, left Lancaster for Washington early in the week. Mr. Mount has for some time been a receptive candidate for the postmastership at his home town, and a warm fight is on between T. B. Robinson and John M. Farra, may have a chance to prove a happy compromise.

Representative Mount was one of the very original Union men in Kentucky and had a material part in carrying Garrard county for Wilson in the pre-convention fight, it being one of the few counties in the state to send a Wilson instructed delegation to the state convention. In addition to this, he has always been a warm friend and adherent of Senator Ollie M. James and had several encouraging letters from James.

SCHOOL NOTES

The first baseball game scheduled so far this season is to be played here on April 11th. The London team plays S. H. S. The weather has been rather unfavorable for practice, but yet the team is in very good condition.

Mr. Craig, representative of the Baldwin Piano Co., tuned the school pianos this week, much to the delight of the pupils, who have to use them. The teachers decided at a meeting this week that they would not attend the Kentucky Educational Association this year as they did last year. That means there will be no spring vacation for the pupils.

A meeting of the high school Literary Society, was held last Friday and Mr. Norris acting as critic said it was one of the best meetings he had attended and much better than the one just before when there were a number of visitors present.

The date for the Mozart Club recital has been set for Thursday the 23d, of this month instead of Friday on account of the district track meet to be held here the 24th.

The trustees have decided that absence from school for any educational purpose shall not be held against a pupil and so Miss Ellen Ballou is planning to take a number of her music pupils to Cincinnati to the May Festival the first week in May.

Mr. Charles G. Gregory, who is studying voice in the College of Music at Cincinnati will sing here Back Club night of commencement week.

SHEEP KILLERS AT WORK AGAIN

Dogs Visit Harry Baughman's Flock And Mangle Nine Ewes

Sheep killing dogs have begun their work early this spring. A pack of curs visited Harry Baughman's flock, sold early Monday morning and killed and mangled nine ewes, and then made their escape before Mr. Baughman could get there with his shotgun. He heard the canines in his flock about four o'clock in the morning, but it was so dark that he could not see them, and when he got out of bed and put to the field where the sheep were, the dogs had finished their work and left. Sheep raisers are up in arms over the depredations committed by night prowling dogs. They say that three quarters of the dogs in Lincoln county are not listed for taxation, and that it is the duty of officers, under the law, to kill every dog upon which the tax has not been paid.

Bethurum Not Candidate for Congress

Judge L. W. Bethurum, of Mt. Vernon, who has a great many friends here, has declined himself out of the race for the republican nomination for congress in the bloody Eleventh. Since retiring from the office of County Judge, of Rockcastle county the first of this year Judge Bethurum has formed a legal partnership with S. D. Lewis at Mt. Vernon and it is his purpose to devote his entire time to the practice of law and remain out of politics. Judge Bethurum considered the question of seeking the congressional nomination for some time and much pressure was brought to bear upon him by members of both factions in the district to enter the race, it being claimed that he would receive support from both factions and result in uniting the g. o. p. With the announcement by Judge Bethurum that he will not enter the race it is expected that several aspirants for the nomination, who were holding off until he had reached a decision, will now get into the scramble. It has been learned from an authoritative source that Charles Finley, of Whitesburg, has been chosen for the nomination and that his candidacy will be formally announced within a few days. State Senator Joe Bosworth, of Middleboro, and Representative Liburn Phelps, of Jamestown, are also prospective candidates and both have many warm friends.

Mat Cohen Will Be Hard to Beat

Mr. Mat Cohen, of Richmond, who was at the Phoenix last evening, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture, and his wide popularity will make him a strong contestant, says the Lexington Leader. He has not yet formally announced his candidacy, but his friends are none the less active on that account. Mr. Cohen has been prominently identified with stock and agricultural affairs since early boyhood. When he was the champion "fox rider" of the Blue Grass he was in the saddle, and will this year again handle the show horses belonging to Mrs. Mary McDowell Lowndes, of Danville, who is one of the most popular and personally attractive of Kentucky's many beautiful women. Mr. Cohen is also a fine animal, Mary Yandell Fox (6), and Richard Coeur de Leon (2) are now in Mr. Cohen's stable at the Lexington Fair grounds. Mr. Cohen agrees with Shelby T. Harrison that there is a fine out for good horses, the automobile to the contrary notwithstanding. The fancy saddle, in his opinion, will ever find a ready market.

Conference for Education in the South

The Annual Conference for Education in the South and Southern Educational association will hold their annual meeting jointly in Louisville, April 7th to 10th, 1914. This meeting will be made up of the leading educators and business men in Kentucky and the entire south. Among those who are prominent in educational affairs and who will appear on the program are: Hon. P. P. Claxton, U. S. Com. of Education, Washington, D. C.; W. Amberson, of Justice, Washington, D. C.; President, Charles W. Dabney, Cincinnati, Ohio; T. J. Coates, Frankfort, Ky.; and J. H. Dillard, Charlottesville, Va. During the meeting conferences of superintendents of Normal schools, of kindergarten Education, and of secondary education will be held. For four days the problem of building up permanently country life will be considered from every angle and the principals of many Kentucky high schools will be present for this share of meeting.

WAYNESBURG

Rev. K. A. Barnes closed his series of meetings here Friday evening. There was no addition to the church, but we feel much good was done.

Rev. J. V. Jones returned to his home in Junction City Thursday.

Rev. Curtis is able to carry the mail again after a week's illness.

Mrs. C. Jordan came over from Stanford Friday to see her father, J. H. Daigh, who has been very ill.

Mr. A. L. Foster, of Hustonville, was here first of the week on business.

Missionary Rally Day will be observed here Sunday, April 12th. An interesting program will be carried out. Everybody cordially invited.

The directors of the K. of P. Fair are expected to meet Saturday afternoon, April 11th at two o'clock in the lodge room.

ORGANIZE KING'S MOUNTAIN

Citizens of Little City on C. S. Want To Incorporate Municipality

W. D. Johnson, G. A. Walter, and W. D. Smith, well known citizens of King's Mountain, were in Stanford, Thursday, consulting attorneys to ascertain what steps will have to be taken to have that bustling little city incorporated so that municipal and peace officers may be chosen. They learned that the law requires that a town to become incorporated must have at least 125 residents within the limits of the proposed incorporation, and that two-thirds of the voting population must sign a petition for such incorporation.

Mr. Johnson says that so far as he knows there is no opposition from any one to the incorporation of King's Mountain and selection of officers to govern the town and keep the peace. He says that steps will be taken at once to have the papers drawn up, and petitions signed.

STAFFORD COUNTY KANSAS

Some Farming Country, According to Our Friend "Bud" Reynolds

R. F. D. 4, St. John, Kansas, March 30, 1914.

Editor of Interior Journal, Stanford, Ky.

Dear Sir:—

I will again write a few lines to my friends through the Interior Journal, which have been a lot of very disagreeable weather through February and March, plenty of wind and now it is pretty dry, but which, looks well. I believe I stated in my last letter that there is the largest acreage of wheat ever sown in the State. The population of county 1123. The list also shows that the county is rapidly coming to the front in mule raising, dairying and in growing alfalfa. At the time this list was made there were 5,241 mules valued at $504,490; cows and sizes 9,548 value $786,800. There were 6,423 calves and all kinds of sizes 9,548 value $786,800. These figures will be greatly increased this year. I think in a very few years alfalfa will become one of the leading crops of the county.

The assessor's book also shows that there were 502 automobiles in the county. Each auto owner is charged a license fee of $5.00, fifty cents of which goes to State Auditor to pay for a number plate and the listing of the car in the office of the assessor. The balance goes to the county road fund.

There are eight banks in the county, four high schools and ninety common school districts. The common school term is seven months and may be more but never less than six months. The average salary of common school teachers is $65 per month.

Another thing I forgot to mention, as rapidly coming to the front here is the silo. I believe the number of silos almost doubled in this county last year. The farmers are just beginning to learn how valuable they are.

Well, I have told you a lot about the county and when you consider that it has only been settled about 35 years, I believe you will see that it compares very favorably with any other county in the state. It is a great blessing especially to the rising generation of young men, but I suppose the temperance people are very well satisfied with what was accomplished in that line. The whiskey people in Kansas were trying to get the question again before the people for a vote, but when the legislature passed a woman suffrage law and ratified at the polls, the re-submission question died a natural death. The whiskey people have a vote 6 to 1 against them. The people of Kansas will never again be a whiskey state. I do not believe Kentucky will ever be a prohibition state until women vote there.

Now, I have possibly said more than I ought too, so will close with best wishes to all my friends.

Very truly,
M. G. REYNOLDS.

President Pardons Berry Simpson

United States District Attorney Edward F. Morrow, has been notified by James D. Morrow, of Perryville, D. C., of the pardon of Berry Simpson by President Wilson. About four years ago Simpson was indicted and tried in the United States Court at Richmond, charged with the killing of United States Marshal, Jno. Mullen at Stearns. It was the outgrowth of a conspiracy against the Stearns Coal Company, during which the Stearns Hotel was fired, resulting in a pitched battle when two were killed and four or five wounded. Attorney Morrow defended Simpson, his trial, and in December went before the authorities in Washington and presented an application for his pardon, which was indorsed by a number of Senators and Congressmen.

Farrell Postmaster at Perryville

President Wilson this week appointed John H. Farrell postmaster at Perryville upon the endorsement of Congressman Harvey Helm. In the recent examination for fourth-class postmasters, Farrell, made a general average, his first on the list of eligibles. Aside from this, he was heavily endorsed by leading democrats in the west end of Boyle county.

BAD NAME FOR POPLAR GROVE

Is Given by Evangelist Barnes, Who Recently Held Meeting There

Yosemite, Casey County, Apr. 3.

Rev. K. A. Barnes in telling of his experiences as an evangelist in the South Kentucky Association, said that he had preached in eastern Kentucky, and in nearly every feud ridden county of that section of the state and that Poplar Grove in this county, was the toughest place he had ever visited. He held a meeting there last fall and he said that very few of the people showed any respect whatever for religious services. He said those on the inside of the house would talk out during services, while those on the outside would throw stones and other missiles through the windows, and on one occasion someone threw stones at him as he was leaving the church. The firing of pistols on the way home from church was a common pass time with many of them. Poplar Grove has always been known as a belligerent region, but we had never dreamed of those people being so little removed from heathenism.

Rev. R. A. Barnes, district evangelist and Rev. J. W. Wade of Morgantown, together with local talent entered into the work of the meeting with a vim and determination to make it a success. Each subject on the program was discussed and good thoughts were brought out. Rev. J. W. Wade preached in the forenoon and Rev. R. A. Barnes at night. They are both time preachers and are never at a loss for something to say, when in the pulpit. There was a large and appreciative crowd present and all seemed to enjoy the services. The good women here prepared several tables with refreshments and a committee looked after the visitors.

Rev. Claunch, who was a little troubled lest the meeting be a failure, is greatly elated at the good he feels has been done.

Revs. K. G. Martin and L. B. Lee were appointed a committee to arrange a program and a place for holding a meeting in May, when it is hoped that a delegation from the churches will be in attendance, and still a greater interest manifested.

Jesse Fox was operated on here Sunday afternoon for appendicitis and is doing well at this writing.

D. R. Brown, of Liberty, attended the meeting here Sunday. He brought up with him Rev. J. W. Wade, of Morgantown, Butler county, who had been spending several days with Mr. Brown, with a view of locating at Casey's capital.

Miss Lizzie Delk, of Mintonville, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. M. E. Jasper.

R. T. Wilson has sold his grist mill here to T. W. Branson and will move to Illinois.

The Middleburg graded school will close April the third.

Vernie Moore, son of W. F. Moore, left Monday for Indianapolis, where he hopes to get employment for the summer.

The missionary meeting at the Baptist church at Middleburg came off, as per announcement, and was interesting throughout.

HUSTONVILLE

Samuel Owens, of McKinney, was in town Wednesday.

Hugh Sandridge, of Middleburg, was here Wednesday driving a good looking horse.

Miss Florence Spragens, of Ellisburg, was the guest of Miss Ella Barnett Wednesday.

Will Cooper and Dennis Jarman, colored boys, were wrestling, when Cooper received a badly sprained ankle.

W. S. Burch and R. C. Engleman, of Stanford, came over Sunday evening. J. G. Weatherford returned to Stanford with them.

Walter McKinney, of Mt. Salem, was here Sunday.

Roy B. Rose, of Danville, was here Monday taking orders of clothes. He received several good orders.

The B. L. A. society will have an exchange at W. H. Lair's store on the day of the Baptist church. All of the church members are earnestly requested to come and bring something and lend a helping hand in the cause. The proceeds will be used in paying for the electric lights at the church.

Miss Martha Holcomb, of Danville, was here Sunday afternoon at his late residence by Rev. J. R. Dodson, internment following in the Taylor burying ground. The following brothers-in-law acted as pall-bearers: Messrs. J. A. Calhoun, J. R. Calhoun, K. O. Harman, Marcus May, J. P. Clarkson Lee Dunsmore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown were in Stanford Friday.

Mr. Lindsay Buchanan, of Burgin, was up of the time until his death. Mr. Taylor was born on the North Rolling Fork 42 years ago he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Taylor, was married to Miss Minnie Calhoun, Nov. 1, 1894. He is survived by his wife and four children: James Lewis Taylor, Misses Ida Lee Taylor, Norma May Taylor, and Mr. William E. Taylor. ### Let's Have an Alfalfa Club in Lincoln

Alfalfa is one of the coming feed crops of Lincoln county and, in fact this section of the state. More Lincoln county farmers are growing it every year. W. P. Givens, in the north western section of the county, has done a magnificent work in blazing the way. In some sections those who want to put in alfalfa crops are organizing alfalfa clubs, and the State Experiment Station at Lexington, is co-operating with them in every way. Prof. H. B. Hendricks, of the Division of Agronomy of the Experiment Station, has just made a trip to Wheatley, Verona, Richmond, and Crittenden where he organized alfalfa clubs in each place with membership ranging from 12 to 18. He will visit the farms, select plots, direct preparation of the ground and the sowing of the seed, and when the season opens there will be two hundred and thirty growers over the state working under the direction of the station when the organization of clubs in Cynthiana and Lawrenceburg is effected. At Versailles the membership has reached twenty. What's the matter with organizing an Alfalfa Club in Lincoln? The I. J. will take pleasure in communicating with the State Experiment Station at Lexington and is satisfied the expert will be sent here if those who wish to put in this great feed crop are sufficiently interested. If you are interested, Mr. Farmer, send in your name to the I. J. and we'll get the expert here.

When we voted against the Glenn insurance bill in the House we believed then that it would prove a very unpopular law, if enacted, but had no idea it was going to prove half so obnoxious to the people as we have learned it, since coming from Frankfort. Wonder if there is the same resentment over its passage in other parts of the state that there seems to be in Lexington and up in this neck of the woods? If so, Ruby Laffoon and other politicians who were responsible for "putting it over" certainly dug their political graves.

The Lexington Leader suggests John W. Barr, Jr., of Louisville, as the Republican nominee for Governor, but we'll wager that Ed Frank will be the man the G. O. P. will nominate.

BEE LICK

The farmers are getting along nicely with the work.

Mrs. Mary Brown is able to be out again.

Mrs. David Proctor still remains about the same.

Mrs. Noakes Scott is visiting her father and mother in Broughton town this week.

Bud Stringer left a few days ago.

Morris Taylor and Arthur Scott, will soon leave.

Mr. M. Cordial has moved into the new dwelling house.

Mr. M. E. Owens says he will make a good crop if he gets it out in time.

Mr. S. O. Proctor and wife, visited his brother T. A. Proctor near Buck Creek last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Proctor, of Quail visited his father Sunday last.

JUMBO

Mr. C. C. Terry and family who sold their place and moved to Ludlow in January in search of a location, returned to this place this week, where they will locate. They bought the store belonging to Rev. John Power, and want all of their friends and old customers to come and trade with them. They are indeed glad to get back to old Lincoln.

They say that E. J. Young, who lives at Ludlow wants to move back to Lincoln and we truly hope that he will, for we need all the good people we can get in old Lincoln.

Silas J. Tichenor has been appointed postmaster at Lebanon Junction.
